

As a part of its "Tag Day" the New York Women's League for Animals presented a medal to Gen. O'Ryan's dog. Billie Burke, Mrs. James Speyer and Elsie Ferguson are shown from left to right. Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

A general view of the May Day Festival that was held on the sheep meadow in Central Park. More than 7,000 school children took part in the exercises. Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

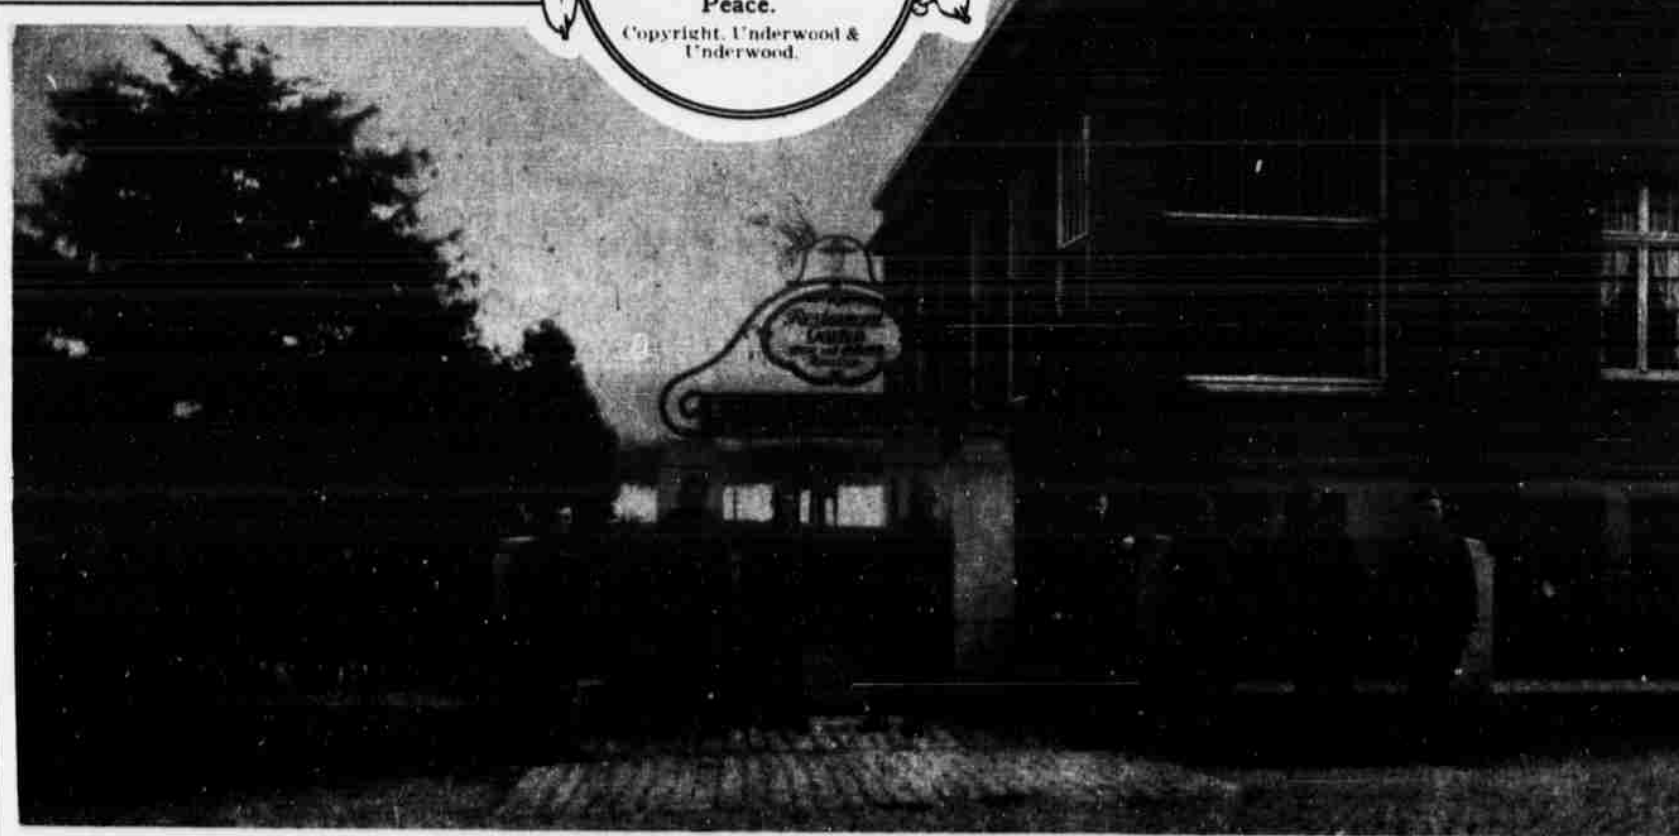

Francis Burton Harrison, Governor-General of the Philippines, and his 18-year-old bride, who was Elizabeth Wrentmore, just after their marriage in Chicago. © International Film.

This is the pen which has been presented to Premier Georges Clemenceau of France to sign the Treaty of Peace. Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

Members of the party of Congressmen which recently visited the war zone in France on the walls of the old chateau at Chateau Thierry looking out over the Marne Valley. Photo by International Film.

A view of the Knights of Columbus club house in Rolensack, Germany. The K. of C., or "Caseys," as the doughboys call the organization, is doing a lot to make life pleasant for the men in the Army of Occupation. This looks to be a thoroughly home-like place.

Uncle Sam's first clown is Cho Cho, who is detailed to duty with the Division of Schools, Bureau of Education. He gets the children interested in being healthy. Photo by International Film.